bibia

A Celebration of Culture, Creativity, and Resilience

Bibia is the Social Enterprise Brand of NGO Forum for Public Health Society, developed and emerged with the generous support of UNHCR that promotes refugee crafts eternally impinge into the Rohingya Culture. Bibia is a heartfelt tribute to the strength, artistry, and cultural heritage of Rohingya women artisans. The name Bibia originates from the affectionate and respectful term used in Rohingya and Bengali communities to symbolise love, care, and familial bonds. In Cox's Bazar, Bangladesh, Bibia reflects the emotional and cultural connection to women, often evoking themes of compassion, creativity, and resilience.

Bibia aims to honour the craftsmanship and traditions of Rohingya women living in the refugee camps of Cox's Bazar and Bhashan Char. Each product is a story of perseverance and artistry, combining traditional techniques with modern aesthetics. From handwoven textiles and embroidered home décor to handcrafted accessories, Bibia's collection highlights the unique talents of its artisans.

Every Bibia product is ethically made, ensuring fair wages following the Bangladesh government's guidelines and sustainable practices. Purchasing a Bibia creation not only supports the livelihoods of these vulnerable women but also preserves their rich cultural identity. The initiative empowers them to share their stories with the world, showcasing their resilience and creativity in the face of adversity. Bibia embodies the values of respect, creativity, and resilience, making every piece a meaningful addition to your life.

This initiative aims to promote sustainable livelihoods for refugee communities. By fostering skills, providing resources, and connecting artisans to national and global markets, these supporters enable Rohingya people to showcase their talents, achieve financial independence, and share their stories with the world.
